Palm Sunday of the Passion of the Lord

As we celebrate Palm Sunday, our Lenten Pilgrimage takes a great dramatic turn. Jesus enters Jerusalem with his friends in high spirits and full of hope and the crowd on his side as they welcome with shouts of joy, 'Hosanna in the highest, blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord'. This entrance is a very political one. At the time of Jesus, victorious generals with their armies returned home and entered the city in similar fashion as the crowds waved branches and shouted out their names.

No other Sunday in our liturgical calendar contains so much drama and tension as today. What begins with shouts of joy and the feeling of victory will quickly change as the same crowd a week later will shout, 'Crucify him, crucify him'. His spectacular entrance into the city is also his entrance into his betrayal, denial, condemnation, suffering and death and ultimately his Resurrection.

We are part of both crowds, and as we witness his suffering, we will also experience his Resurrection. We pray that as we enter into this most sacred of weeks with Jesus, we will be drawn closer to him and each other.

FIRST READING

The Lord has given me a disciple's tongue so that I may know how to reply to the wearied. (Is 50 4:7)

PSALM

All who see me deride me. They curl their lips, they toss their heads. (Ps 21: 8-24)

SECOND READING

His state was divine, yet Christ Jesus did not cling To his equality with God but emptied himself to assume the condition of a slave. (Ph 2: 6-11)

GOSPEL

One of the Twelve, the man called Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests and said: What are you prepared to give me if I hand him over to you? Mt (26 :14 - 27:66)

With no collections being take up at present at Sunday Mass, it is very important that we continue to support our priests especially in these most difficult times.

2nd Collection at Mass (Share Collection)
The Share Collection provides essential pastoral services supporting all parishes. Share also provides support to low-income parishes and contributes to initiatives of the Irish Bishop's Conference.

1st Collection at Mass (Common Fund)
This collection is for the support of the priests, including sick and retired priests within the Diocese.

To contribute - Log onto Dublin Diocese website and click the DONATE button on the home page.
